

First experiment in the application of fibrin glue "Bioadhesive" in the surgical treatment of mammary gland tumors. [Russian]

Authors: Dosenko I.V.

Publication Date: 1999

Abstract:

The method of prophylaxis and treatment of an early complications of surgical treatment of the mammary gland tumors using native biological fibrinous glue "Bioadhesive" was proposed. The preparation application had permitted to reduce the operative wound healing duration, to reduce a wound exudate quantity, the duration and intensity of lymphorrhea and the seroma rise frequency, and to improve significantly an operative intervention cosmetic result.