

Meningeal injury during surgery of the ethmoid sinus: endoscopic treatment using surgical glue. [French]

Authors: Bouton V., Sanson J.

Publication Date: 1991

Abstract:

A case of a meningeal injury with CSF leak due to intranasal ethmoidal surgery is reported. Fibrinogen glue was used for the endoscopic repair. The importance of the immediate follow-up is stressed. The literature is revised.