

Fibrin glue: An effective hemostatic agent for nonsuturable intraoperative bleeding.

Authors: Rousou J.A., Engelman R.M., Breyer R.H.

Publication Date: 1984

Abstract:

Bleeding is sometimes difficult to control during cardiac operations because of bleeding diathesis or poor tissue quality. A simple method that can control such bleeding is described.