

Merits of intralesional fibrin glue injection in surgery for cavernous sinus cavernous hemangiomas: Technical note.

Authors: Kim I.-M., Yim M.-B., Lee C.-Y., Son E.-I., Kim D.-W., Kim S.-P., Sohn C.-H.

Publication Date: 2002

Abstract:

In planning surgical treatment for extraaxial cavernous hemangiomas, care should be taken to control severe tumor bleeding. The authors present a case of a large cavernous hemangioma of the cavernous sinus, which was completely removed with the aid of multiple intratumoral injections of fibrin glue. This novel method is very effective for preventing excessive blood loss during surgery for this type of lesion.